

Streaming Dome Presentations

Domecast live with UNVIEW to other planetarium domes: the Kavli Lecture "Are we alone in the Universe?" with Lisa Kaltenegger from Adler Planetarium Chicago | Photo courtesy: Adler Planetarium

Even in the age of digital projection techniques and fulldome films, each planetarium retains its independence and individuality with locally unique events. However, this does not exclude sharing special presentations with other planetariums. Techniques to stream dome presentations, including sound and presenters, from one planetarium to other facilities are under development.

