

The Planetarium Behind the Scenes

Operator training in the Laupheim Planetarium | Photo courtesy: ZEISS, Manfred Stich

For one hundred years the profession of planetarians has evolved with planetarium technology and astronomy findings. Planetarians operate the planetarium systems, they are lecturers and teachers, they carry a telescope outside to star parties and heavy mobile domes into schools or remote places. Planetarians always share their expertise and train young planetarium operators, the next generation of planetarians.

